

CHASE FARM HOSPITAL

Save Chase Farm – Wolves in sheep's clothing?

The widely supported (and rightly so) Save Chase Farm Hospital campaign has been hijacked by the Save Chase Farm (SCF) party.

The SCF party said it was a party "with no other political affiliations".

In fact it is linked with George Galloway's Respect and other left-wing groups through the Socialist Unity Network.

SCF said: "By standing in areas where neither Labour or Conservative politicians have a big lead we hope to grab the balance of power on Enfield Council."

In fact in May the SCF party put up candidates only in Conservative-held wards.

It's clear their main aim was to see that Enfield didn't have a Conservative council, but they knew that if they were honest about that they wouldn't have got anywhere, so they hid behind a hospital over which they know the Council has no control.

Don't let them pull the wool over your eyes
